THE GREAT SCANDAL CASE.

Another Turn In Its History With a Promise of the End.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 28.-Frank Moulton esterday instituted, through his counsel, Roger S. Hicker, a suit in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, for $50,000 dam-preme Court, Brooklyn, for $50,000 damages against Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. The papers were served on Beecher here, at his residence, last night.

The complaint sets forth the cause for the action as malicious prosecution of Moulton by Beecher, the specification being that on Oct. 13, 1874, he procured Moulton's indictment on a charge of criminal libel, and pressed the suit so far as to have him attested and held to beil. The specification further shows that on Oct. 22, 1875, the District Attorney entered a nolle prosecqui in the case against Moulton's expressed wish.

The suit is intended to fully clear up the scandal, and only one question will be at issue, namely, the truth or falsity of Moulton's allegation that Beecher committed adultery with Mrs. Tilton. It is expected that Gen. B. F. Builer will be Moulton's counsel. Mrs. Tilton will certainly be called as a witness as well as a number of others whose testimony was excluded in the great trial.

Among other witnesses there will be ANOTHER CHAPTER. At a Business Meeting of Plymouth Church last night it was finally resolved that an Advisory Council should not be held, but that a Mutual Council should be first held, in which the propositions propounded by Mrs. Moulton should be first considered. After that it was ordered that the Advisory Meeting should be held.

NEW YORK.

The Cuban Question-Our Relations with Spain and Mexico Discussed .- The Star Spangled Ban-

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.-The Herald's special from Washington says it is rumored that the object of the proposed ntervention in Cuban affairs is to save the cultivated parts of the island from greater devastation and prevent further demoralization of the sugar producing industry. That with this object the President had consulted with the British, French and German Governments, offering to join them in such a mediation as would produce a cessation of hostili-ties and leave time for arrangements to be perfected between the Cubans and Spanish.

Spanish.

New York, Dec. 28.—The Herald editorially discussing the Cuban question says the intervention of this country alone, on Cuban affairs, would certainly lead to war between Spain and the United States. The only chance for intervention to be peaceful and effectual, lies in the co-operation of other governments with that of the United States. An intervention for what President Grant, in his Message, calls the interest of humanity, itself ought to be a point of intervention, if it is to have any moral weight, or looks to the indorsement of the public opinion of the world. Acting alone, our motives would be open to suspicion, and our intervention would be imputed to motives quite different from a desire to protect the interests of humanity.

The Times, editorially referring to our relations with Mexico and the proposition to permit the U. S. troops to follow marauders across the boundary, says if the disturbances along the line, which now have become chronic, shall extend westward to the Pacific, as they are likely to do, the vigorous and aggressive policy threatened by Minister Foster will soon become necessary.

The Times, however, considers that fillibustering, which so readily manifests itself on our side of the line, ought to be checked at once, and says there is no reason or possible excuse for the assertion so often made that Lower California will eventually become an integral part of our Union, but in the meantime diplomacy ought to be exhausted before it is admitted that our troubles with Mexico can not be peaceably and honor-

Ham's Nonsense-Whisky. CHICAGO, Dec. 28 .- United States Marshal Campbell, of this city, father-in-law of General Babcock, says the report that of General Babcock, says the report that the latter gentleman will attempt to break the force of the charges pending against blm, by bringing counter charges against Secretary Bristow, is entirely without foundation. He has no charges to make, and Mr. Campbell says the entire story was concected without the knowledge of General Babcock.

up a diversion against Secretary Bristow is regarded here as ridiculous. Mr. Ham, the editor of that paper, was recently removed from office by Bristow, and the animus of his attack is too plain to leave room for doubt.

Arrangements for the approaching whisky trials are now complete, and the Government officials are evidently well satisfied that they will be able to prove all they undertake.

Late Foreign News.

FOREIGN INTERVENTION IN CUBA.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 .- The Herald's special from London says: News from Madrid indicate the probability of serious diplomatic complications. It is mored in trustworthy quarters that the European Powers are likely to interfere in the affairs of Cuba. The nations which may unite for this purpose are not named. It is believed the United States Government is forewarned of these facts, as lengthy cipher dispatches are passing between Madrid and Washington.

The Herald cable from Rome, Decen The Herald cable from Rome, December 27, says to-day being the Pope's name day, there was a series of grand receptions at the Vatican. Members of the Papal Staff and their commanding officers received the Pontifical benediction kneeling. The War Minister of His Holiness' Council delivered an address congratulating the Pontif, to which the Pope returned a suitable reply.

Pope returned a suitable reply.

The Pacific Mills, in Lawrence, Mass., employing fifty-two hundred operatives, have given notice of a reduction of 10 to have given notice of a reduction of 10 to 15 per cent. in wages, to take effect January 1, owing to the depression in the price of print-cloths. This corporation announce that they are obliged either to stop their looms or reduce the cost of production. After the reduction, however, the Pacific rates of wages will be higher than any in the city, and among the highest in the country.

AN UNWELCOME PASSENGER.

A Baggageman's Encounter With a Wolf. The Atlanta (Ga.) Herald of the 24th

The Atlanta (Ga.) Heraid of the 24th inst. gives an account of the difficulty Baggagemaster Hunt met on a trip from Chattanooga the day previous. It says: At Chattanooga a man from some Western State got aboard the traiu. He had, chained about the neck, a very large yellow wolf. The brute appeared to be docile enough while in charge of his owner, although to a strauger his fierce eye and grinning teeth were sufficient to keep one at a distance.

By considerable pulling and kicking and jerks, the man succeeded in getting him aboard, and putting him in the baggage car, where he was chained in one corner. As might be well imagined, the baggage-master did not fancy such a companion in his car alone, and protested against the act, but was repeatedly assured that the wolf was harmless and would attack no one. Thus the baggageman's fears were allayed, and the train started. It leaves Chattanooga before light, and the baggage-master was left alone in his car with his gaunt companion.

The train had not proceeded a very

The train had not proceeded a very great distance before it became necessary for the baggage-master to adjust some pieces which he proceeded to do. In moving about he oither largot the presence of the brute or depending upon what the owner said in regard to its viciousness. Went too near his wellkalp, and the last of th which, of alsudden made a spring at Mr. Hunt and seized his coat-tail. Turning to fight the animal off it seized him again, tearing his coat half off. Mr. Hunt fought the wolf off and made his escape into the next car, where he informed Conductor Bell of what had taken place.

That officer felt outraged at the danger to which his subaltern had been subjected, and started in to dispatch the brute, but thought it best to inform its owner of what had transpired before proceeding to his revengeful errand. The proprietor of the one-horse menagerie was aroused and informed of the situation, and told that he must make reparation for the damage done or he would be short of a wolf very soon.

He offered to console the injured party by saying that the wolf was playing, and that it frequently tore his clothes off in these little antics. But this did not restore the rent garment or allay the anguish of the bagagemaster, who insisted upon his making good what the beast had made worthless. After considerable parleying and bickering they finally compromised on $10.50. After that the wolf had the car pretty much to himself the balance of the trip.

Alexander Dumas prepared himself for his new play by "reading thirty-odd volumes on American history and man-ners," yet he introduces a gentleman smoking a pipe in Mrs. Clarkson's par-lor, during an evening call, and this, too, against the earnest protest of the hostess. Sardou could scarcely have done worse.

A Danbury man, wishing to engage several bushels of potatoes from a party in the suburbs, asked a neighbor what sort of a man he was. "Well," said the conscientious neighbor, "I don't know very much about him, but I should think he would make a tip top stranger."

With a little sympathy and a large amount of money a man can get along very comfortably.

THE Sinton Cadets will hold a meeting at their armory to-morrow night, to make arrangements for the Centennial Parade on New Year's Eve. Let every man turn out, drum corps and all.

THE proposed jamboree that is to usher in the Centennial year is no joke. The movement has assumed business. like proportions, and the men at the head of affairs have determined to make a night of it, once in a hundred years anyhow, and things look now as though Cincinnati was to have one of the grandest displays on record next Friday night.

Ed. Brown, the young boy who shot Tommy Bran on Christmas morning, in Charcoal alley, has been dismissed, as his uncle, James Brown, who lives at Third and Elm streets, has promised to take good care of him, and make him behave himself in the future. He is an orphan. The wounded boy was in Court, and is not seriously hurt, as there was no bullet in the pistol. The damage was done by a paper wad.

To the last toast Mr. Chickering was called upon to respond, which he did, giving a brief history of the school. It was founded more than twenty years ago. During the past ten years it has presented diplomas to its graduates. One hundred young men have been the recipients of this, the highest honor conferred by the school. It has, at present, a corps of thirteen teachers—nine gentlemen and four ladies. Never was the Institute so prosperous, having received searly one hundred new pupils during the present term. Since the erection of the present term. Since the erection of the present building—fifteen years ago—two hundred and fifty thousand dollars have been spent by the Principal in the building, instruction and general improvements. It is now probably the largest Private Boys' School in America, having, during the last thir teen years, had an average attendance of 215 annually. ing seen her as "Lorle," the little peaant girl, says:

"If the highest art of the actor is to conceal his art, to give a personation that shall make his auditors forget they gaze upon a mimic presentation, and imagine they look at the living, actual reality, then certainly helor she who hest succeeds in this concealment is the best exponent of the drama. And in this seeming reality is the best evidence of genius. That is but a poor actor who shows that he is acting, that it is a sliam disguise he wears. To Maggie Mitchell can cheerfully be accorded the honor of being the best initiator of nature who has yet appeared in this city. Her characterizations are always simple, pure aud it were, of nature."
